

Travis Sims, Extreme Entertainment Introduction

Travis Sims and his wife Damaris own Extreme Entertainment.

For the past 7 years Extreme Entertainment has supplied entertainment to many area restaurants weekly and several events per weekend.

Their magic act has performed at such elite places as Holiday World, Belterra Casino, The Belle of Louisville, French Lick Resort and Casino, and Headlined at fairs and festivals across the mid west. They even performed for a taping of the Oprah show.

Entertaining is just ONE of Travis's passions. Travis joined BNI (Business Networking International) 3 years ago and became very passionate about BNI. He served as President of the Alliance chapter of BNI in Bedford, IN.; went through GEMS training; he is a Certified Referral Marketing graduate, and served as a BNI Assistant Director for 2 years managing eight chapters.

Today Travis is currently the Southern Indiana BNI Area Director managing 33 counties in the Indiana BNI franchise, a long time member of the Chamber of Commerce, and involved in Rainmakers.

Travis has traveled the State of Indiana sharing with other business owners and executives about the secrets of success through "word of mouth" marketing. He is one of the most sought after speakers in the marketing industry.

Travis believes his success can be attributed to setting goals reviewing them regularly and a strong desire to accomplish them
